

Video Transcript – Josh Auskalnis Talks About Public Accounting

My name is Joshua Auskalnis and my job title is In-Charge Accountant. I originally started as an intern during tech season of 2020, and I've just now reached my one-year mark as a full-time CK team member. What originally, I was looking for was to join the public accounting field, and so I was kind of looking for smaller firms as I wanted to be able to know people and not just be another face in the crowd. That was the beautiful thing that Cray Kaiser offered, was that I would be able to work in public accounting and still be at a small firm. I basically get to experience all the different types of returns between S Corps, partnerships, basically anything that Cray Kaiser prepares, I get a chance to experience that.
