

Video Transcript – Maria Gordon Talks About CK's Culture

My name is Maria Gordon, and I am a tax senior here at Cray Kaiser. I just finished my fifth tax season at Cray Kaiser. Cray Kaiser's culture is like a big family, and I know that might sound cliché to say that, but the environment here is very relational. You constantly hear people around the office talking with one another, not only about work issues, but really genuinely caring about what's going on in one another's lives. We joke around a fair amount. There's a good amount of laughter that we have here, and it helps to keep things light and fun. It doesn't detract from us being able to get our work done, which is really fabulous. It seems to just add to the energy level in the office.
